EUROPEAN UNION

DRAFT
The Union's annual budget for the 2024 financial year

SECTION X

EUROPEAN EXTERNAL ACTION SERVICE

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY DB2024

The introduction to the budget request has been provided by each Institution together with the statement of estimate for its respective budget section. In line with Article 314§1 of the TFEU, which states that: '[...] each Institution shall [...] draw up estimates of its expenditure for the following financial year. The Commission shall consolidate these estimates in a draft budget, which may contain different estimates.', the Commission has exceptionally adjusted the estimates of all Institutions. It is thus possible that figures referred to in the introduction of a specific budget section are different from those integrated into the Draft Budget.

Now in its second decade of existence, the EEAS has come a long way. It is recognised as a solid and reliable international partner and has increased the coherence, effectiveness and visibility of the EU's external action.

It pursues its core activities of managing diplomatic relations and strategic partnerships with non-EU countries in close collaboration with the national diplomatic services of EU countries, the UN and other leading powers. It also actively contributes to a wide and increasing number of files, notably security under the Common Security and Defence Policy, climate change, mediation, peace building, development and humanitarian aid, and human rights issues.

The EEAS baseline draft budget for 2024 - the amounts needed to keep the institution running as-is while covering the increases arising from statutory and contractual obligations - amounts to 967.4 M€, which represents an increase of 147.3 M€ (+18.0 %) compared to the 2023 budget.

This increase is mainly explained by the fact that the 2023 budget runs into deficit, and a comparison with it does not take into account accrued needs, the contractual obligations such as salary adjustments, including for the Local Agents, and the exceptionally high inflation which has effects on rents and other indexed items of expenditures.

To this baseline budget comes additional reinforcements to cover needs essential for their political importance or additional tasks with which the EEAS has been charged by the legislator or caused by factors outside of the EEAS' control. These reinforcements are justified by the EEAS new obligations related to the Strategic Compass, the opening of a new delegation in Oman, and a minimum set-up in the Hague, a development of the EU instances fighting disinformation and consular support to EU citizens.

Globally, the total draft 2024 budget, including the additional amounts, is calculated at 986.1 M€, which represents an increase by 166.0 M€ (+20.2 %) and 119 net full-time equivalents compared to the 2023 budget.

A number of ongoing discussions have not yet reached sufficient maturity to justify the inclusion of the corresponding resources in the 2024 draft budget. These open points, notably related to the Military Planning and Conduct Capabilities (MPCC) Roadmap, strengthening the EU Intelligence and Situation Centre (EU INTCEN), and a Close Protection Team for rapid deployment in Delegations. They may be part of an amending letter or budget at a later stage.

Remarks

The main objective of the pilot project will be to investigate and analyse the possibilities for a creation, under the current framework, of a European Diplomatic Academy. This pilot project will establish a robust evidence base to decide on options as regards the possibilities for a creation, under the current framework, of a European Diplomatic Academy providing training, including in support of preparation for possible entry into the EEAS and Union delegations, through a developed teaching of courses and subjects:

- A study of existing national, and where appropriate, international academies and their programmes with the aim of envisaging what a European Diplomatic Academy would be able to add to this landscape. This can also entail an analysis of existing academic institutions such as the European University Institute (EUI), the College of Europe and other structures such as the European Security and Defence College (ESDC) and the European School of Administration (EUSA). This study will also analyse the potential set-up and delivery model of such an academy as well as its cost.

EUROPEAN EXTERNAL ACTION SERVICE

CHAPTER 2 2 — OTHER OPERATING EXPENDITURE (cont'd)

2 2 5 (cont'd)

2 2 5 0 (cont'd)

- Several projects can be run in parallel to the study in order to test possible features of the European Diplomatic Academy in practice and evaluate their impact and inform the study, such as a European Diplomatic Academy pilot course / dry run consisting of a two-month residential pilot programme for a selected group of 60 recruits and trainee diplomats from Member States and Union institutions; and 'Erasmus for Diplomats' allowing some 60 young diplomats in their first years of service to spend up to two months in the Foreign Service of another Member State or in the EEAS, including a randomly selected Union delegation. This pilot course of 'Erasmus for Diplomats' can also explore the possibility for EEAS staff to spend up to two months at headquarters in Member States different from the one of their nationality. If these pilot courses are successful, they can lead to a one-year academic programme.

The pilot project will be able to finance the study, under the actual conditions, of the creation of such a European Diplomatic Academy, and the running of these two pilot courses as described above.

Extending the pilot project by one year will provide a more solid basis, thereby ensuring sustainability of the project. The aim of the second phase of the pilot project will be two-fold:

- Through an extension of the study, provide more analysis and options for the creation of a European Diplomatic Academy by providing a training needs analysis, and by looking in particular into target groups of a future academy, including the possibility of those interested in becoming Union diplomats in the future who are not diplomats of a Member State. The study should also analyse the preparation for possible entry into the EEAS and Union delegations.
- Organise a second pilot academic year (following on the one foreseen in the first phase of the pilot project), in order to incorporate its results, as of the dimension of the participation of diplomats of Member States in the future European Diplomatic Academy. Participants should, in principle, as during the first phase, be around 60 recruit and trainee diplomats from Member States and Union institutions.

With this second year, the two elements of the pilot project, i.e. the study and the pilot academic programme as mentioned above, should deliver the necessary robust evidence base and analysis concerning the legal and administrative set-up, delivery model, governing bodies and budgetary requirements for a future European Diplomatic Academy. The outcomes of the analysis should refer also to the possible locations for the European Diplomatic Academy, which could be situated in different existing academic and diplomatic training institutions in the Union, highly specialized in Union external action, in order to gain from their academic and practical experience in the field.

Legal basis

Pilot project within the meaning of Article 58(2) of Regulation (EU, Euratom) 2018/1046 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 18 July 2018 on the financial rules applicable to the general budget of the Union, amending Regulations (EU) No 1296/2013, (EU) No 1301/2013, (EU) No 1303/2013, (EU) No 1304/2013, (EU) No 1309/2013, (EU) No 1316/2013, (EU) No 223/2014, (EU) No 283/2014, and Decision No 541/2014/EU and repealing Regulation (EU, Euratom) No 966/2012 (OJ L 193, 30.7.2018, p. 1).
